Get in Touch for Internationals

In 2011, Carola Eijssening (Indigo-Wereld) developed Get in Touch Program with a vision to support spouses of international employees. And year after year, GiT grew bigger and warmer with her love and support. After 10 long years of her nurturing, I (Megha Vaidya, Kuroosh), as her successor, look forward to carrying the torch forward with same enthusiasm.

Perspectives

Get in Touch assists international spouses in starting a new journey in their new residence. It helps embrace what the city has to offer, explore the city, make friends, build social networks, and make feel at home.

"At TU/e we think it is important that our colleagues are not only happy with their jobs, but also have a happy spouse who finds her or his way in the Netherlands. The GiT program helps them to do just that. At the same time, it is a breeding ground for many lasting friendships." - Femke Verheggen (HR Advisor TU/e and Host Introduction days)

"GiT helped me to make Eindhoven my home, by meeting new friends, building a social network and exploring the city." (Audrey Fournier, France, Joined in August 2016)

"GiT for me has been a place to meet, to share, to find friends, get to know different cultures, and share our experiences of expatriate life. I feel that it is a community that accompanies you on this journey of living in the Netherlands. (Viviana González, Chile, Joined in October 2020)

kuroosh

"Kuroosh" is a Nepali term for "crochet hook". Like the art of crocheting interlocks yarns, Kuroosh aims at interlocking people, culture, and language. Through English as the common language, Kuroosh connects people and places via various platforms like Get in Touch Program, Proofreading, Editing, Translating (Nepali- English & vice versa), and Crochet workshops and products.
